

HISTORIC CARTOON May 29

Little Joe, a caricature of Soviet leader Joseph Stalin, a cartoon character who appeared in a series of satiric cartoons in the 1940s and 1950s, was used to illustrate product in those days. The cartoons invariably deprecated various aspects of Soviet government, industry, or daily life. Here, Little Joe illustrated Soviet Navy combat training. NOTE: Molotov was the Soviet Foreign Minister.

502 caption: a caricature of Josef Stalin, wearing boxing gloves; beside him is a porthole through which water may be seen, and on the floor is a book titled "Art of Fisticuffs by Molotov""